Weekly Bulletin #173

God is glorified in all His creation, and not only in human beings who can use their minds to speak his praises. Nature praises Him because it gets its existence from Him, and works according to His laws. It is fairly easy to see how God is glorified by sunsets and roses and snow-capped mountains, and storms and thunder and kittens and grass, because these things reflect something of divine beauty. ALL THINGS GIVE GLORY TO GOD - and they are GOOD, because God made all things. Every separate piece of God's creation, by existing on the kind of existence God means it to have, gives glory to God. This idea of everything having on it the glow of God's look - like the warmth of the sun showing in the haze - seems clear enough when we take the trouble to think about it. To the saints such a view of creation is a settled state of mind. Outward objects are seen and loved as being reflections of Him Who made them. That is why St. Paul said that the visible things were there to draw our minds to a knowledge of the invisible Creator. That is why St. Francis called natural things, like the sky and the sun, by the title of brother and sister. They were all in the family. They all bore on them the Father's likeness. They all show the Beautiful Face of God!!!

1. Wednesday, October 24, is the Feast of St. Raphael the Archangel.
2. NEXT SUNDAY IS THE FEAST OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST THE KING.

This is the patronal feast of Christ the King Monastery. Every special prayer should be said for the Greater Honor and Glory of our Lord Jesus, in thanksgiving for the marvelous goodness He has shown in the establishment and the foundation of His House - our Monastery. The Monastery, itself, is nearly completed in the interior, and all of it has been due to the goodness of God. We have Monks, and by the grace of God, GOOD MONKS. For that great Grace we should always be most grateful. May these holy men be given the Grace to persevere until the end of their lives, and that they will be the soldiers needed to help RESTORE ALL THINGS IN CHRIST, and that through their holy efforts and prayers, UNITY WILL BECOME AN ACCOMPLISHED FACT.

WE THANK THE LORD, FOR HIS MERCY IS EVERLASTING.
