The fact that some religions profess a belief in One God and the immortality of the soul is quite well and good, but it is not enough to save them. The faith that justifies a man is the faith in God's Incarnate Son and His redemption - - NO OTHER! This is a minimal, explicit knowledge necessary in order to make an act of faith sanctifying. There is no other Divine Faith. God cannot be sanctifying souls all over the world by His grace when they are rejecting that grace by clinging to false religions or some self-satisfying concocted religious activity. The Catholic Church does not have parts which interwine with parts of other religious systems or private religious operations. What kind of Mystical Body would this be? Such a church would not be recognizable at all, but a disorganized conglomerate, a multi-headed monster. Any church which fosters such a system, even if it be in the name of ecumenism, simply cannot be talking about or acting in the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

LORD, GRANT US MONKS! LORD, GRANT US HOLY MONKS! LORD, GRANT US MANY HOLY MONKS!

LORD, PLEASE PERMIT US TO COMPLETE OUR ABBEY CHURCH IN 1993

!AND WITHOUT DEBT!
