THE TENTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

Weekly Bulletin # 466

July 27, 1997 - - - Green

Mass: Sunday; Gl; Or: Sun, A Cunctis, Church, A Domo; Cr; Pref. Trin.

Penitents whose ideas about penance are not well ordered, and who have not followed good advice and experienced direction, whose training in penance has lacked obedience will often exceed the proper measure of penance. Lacking the discipline of prayer, and the light which flows from prayer, they will override considerations of charity, THE NEEDS OF THOSE ABOUT THEM, their state in life, spiritual direction, health and common sense. Clenching their teeth they will go to it - come what may - and in the end they will be humiliated to find that they have been unable to keep up their over-balanced practices. Worse yet - they oftentimes become so disillusioned about all matters of a religious nature and turn from over restriction to over laxity. God rewards only His own work, and where a work has been undertaken without reference to Him except for His name which appears on the beautiful holy cards that are packed in prayer books there is failure.

Through their clenched teeth these false penitents may give good reasons for their penitence, but if they are not ordered in their penance they will neither wash away many sins nor will they convert many souls. Rather, they will drive people away from themselves, and from spiritual practice itself.

We are Traditional Roman Catholics because we hold fast to the Sacred Mysteries of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass and to the valid administration of the Sacraments and we are loyal to the teachings of the Church - teachings that can never change. The man of pugnacious traditionalism has neither the humility nor the charity to make a lasting impression. He has not the submission to Christ. For an appeal to meet with a response that will be kept up there must be more of cool conviction than burning enthusiasm!
