

5. As we look about us through-out this planet and world of ours, we witness every variety of distress, and countless numbers of people are dead because of never before heard of calamities of a physical nature. As we continue to look and think we see countless numbers of people who have turned away from their responsibilities to their Lord and God - and they have done this with impunity. As has been said before, God is no consequence anymore to most people. Let us pray for these people - all of them - and ask God to help us, too. Pray for the dead and dying.
