faced with at the present time, for us, every image of Our Lady is a shrine. From the Sistine Madonna down to the most tattered and torn holy card in our prayer book is a shrine. In our home chapels any such tattered card or battered statue, in the eyes of true faith and love, does something to the heart of the one who looks upon it, for it has the power to draw one closer toward Our Lady and to God.
Where there is no church or shrine for us, we have our home altar; when all else is missing, we have our love. What more can we give Our Lady on the holy Feast of her Assumption into Heaven?*
